Dear IEC Partnership:

Re: NEW Sarnia-Lambton Industrial Educational Cooperative (IEC) Registration Application

The IEC is pleased to announce the launch of our new course registration application.

The new system simplifies the user experience by modernizing the process used to search, register and pay for IEC courses. It enhances the user's ability to track, verify, and report training information. New cards include 'Quick Response' (QR) code technology that can be used to verify competencies in a wide range of applications. Most important, all security vulnerabilities identified with the current system have now been addressed and system speed/performance has greatly improved.

The IEC Registration staff and Project SME Team spent the past year configuring the system to meet the unique needs of our region. This same group then challenged the system to intentionally find flaws and to verify functionality. They then worked with the IEC Program Development team to develop training materials for user reference. The final product was tabled to the 777 Strategy Committee who then made a recommendation to the IEC Board for the application to go live. On September 30, the IEC Board of Directors granted final approval.

This is the first of many steps in enhancing engagement and creating a more sophisticated experience for our customers. Training is now being arranged over the month of October with an official go live on October 28. For more information, please contact IEC Registration at 519-383-1222 or Megan Marsland at 519-918-4302.
